Mike Frejka, Joel Ortiz, and Gordon Sprague

Mike Frejka - 1st

The final table of the $600 7-Card Stud had half the eight person field eliminated in just under an hour. The final four however watched a changing of the chip leader for the next two plus hours until the day's initial chip leader, Leonard Tannenbaum of Armonk, NY, was taken down by the final chip leader Mike Frejka. The championship ride was not completely smooth sailing for any of the final three as each of them were down to the felt during the four-way action.

A total of 130 players began the tournament on Wednesday competing for a prize pool of $66,833. After a Noon start on Thursday, the final table lost its first player when Phillip Reed of Darien, CT went all-in after 10 minutes of play. Phil had Q's but could not improve and had to concede defeat when Len Tannenbaum's A's. Phil collected $2,005 for 8th place. William Munley had pocket K's, which was also unable to improve and succumbed to J's over 4's from Mike Frejka. Mr Munley took 7th and $2,339 back to Throop, Pa. Shortly thereafter, Jennifer George, of Quincy, MA pushed her last $14,000 in with AK9, only to improve to a pair of J's and a defeat to trip Q's. For Jennifer's efforts she earned $2,673 and 6th place.

After surviving the previous all-in hand with a pair of 8's, Bobby "The Bus" Ferdinand was unable to improve his all-in hand of J's and took 5th giving way to Joel Ortiz's K's, and earning a $3,342 payday. Leonard Tannenbaum enjoyed the chip lead for most of the day, but as the betting structure increased, Leonard's chip stack started taking hits. There were no less than 7 all-in hands before Leonard was finally eliminated. Leonard was all-in with Q97 and was called by Mike Frejka and pocket 8's. Mike picked up a second pair of 10's while Len was unable to improve and had to settle for 4th place and $4,678.

With three players left, and severe chip stack vulnerability with the high betting structure, the final three contestants reached an agreement to split the remaining prize pool. With the agreement Gordon Sprague took home the Championship Trophy, Joel Ortiz received the commemorative jacket, while Mike Frejka received the higher payout, appropriate to his higher chip stack.

Gordon Sprague - 2nd
